

ATTORNEY MELISSA SCARTELLI

W-B Attorney Is Principal In Law Firm

Attorney Melissa Scartelli, Wilkes-Barre, has been named a principal in the regional law firm of Hourigan, Kluger, Spohrer and Quinn.

A member of the firm's litigation department since 1989, she previously served as a clerk to Lackawanna County Judge S. John Cottone.

She also served as a law clerk with the firms of Goldberg, Katzman and Shipman, Harrisburg; the Dauphin County Public Defenders Office, Harrisburg, and attorney Robert W. Munley, Scranton, in whose office she did extensive research in personal injury law, torts, family law and insurance.

She received a law degree in 1987 from Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle, where she was captain of the National Trial Moot Court Team. She also was an officer of the Corpus Juris Society and the Criminal Law Society.

She has been honored by the International Academy of Trial Lawyers for best trial advocacy.

A member of the Luzerne and Lackawanna Bar Associations, she is also a member of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America.

She serves as legal council to the New Directions committee of the American Cancer Society.

She holds a bachelor of arts degree in English from Dickinson College, where she graduated cum laude in 1984.

Hourigan, Kluger, Spohrer and Quinn has offices in Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Allentown and Stroudsburg.